Houston's Largest Community Health Clinic Network Creates First Chief HR Position

Legacy Community Health Welcomes Vince Goodwine to Executive Leadership

HOUSTON (March 24, 2020) – Legacy Community Health, the largest FQHC in Texas, welcomes Vince Goodwine as its first Chief Human Resources Officer. The executive leadership position, which did not exist prior to Goodwine, was created to provide equitable and welcoming leadership to the health care agency's HR department and 1,400-plus employees across Southeast Texas.

"Legacy looks forward to a bright future with Mr. Goodwine as part of our executive leadership," says Legacy CEO Katy Caldwell. "We know his experience and expertise will build on Legacy's reputation of being one of the best places to work in Houston."

"Through a positive employment experience, Legacy personnel are better able to focus on providing quality patient care," says Goodwine, who has over 25 years of experience in leading human resource teams and initiatives. "As an HR practitioner, I am driven to provide an employment experience where every team member feels heard, knows they are valued, and embraces Legacy as a place to achieve their career aspirations as everyone collectively executes the organization's mission, vision and values in caring for Legacy's patient family."

Prior to Legacy, Goodwine was the Vice President of Human Resources of HCA Corpus Christi. Thereafter, he was promoted to Vice President of Human Resources at HCA Healthcare Houston, where he successfully led HR operations for some 3,300 employees across over 100 private physician practices, 20 urgent care centers, 11 surgery centers, numerous transfer centers, and the HCA behavioral health department in Houston, Corpus Christi, Brownsville and McAllen.

Goodwine is a graduate of the University of Texas at Austin and currently serves on the Board of Directors for Texas Workforce Solutions – Coastal Bend and on the Advisory Board of HR Tech Connect. In 2019, Goodwine was awarded Practitioner of the Year by the Society for Human Resource Management.
